NEW IN JAPANESE COSMETOLOGY! DRY TYPE BIO CELLULOSE MASK AND ITS MAGICAL EFFECT ON THE SKIN!

Regular mask

Dry type mask

For comparison, on the left is shown the thickness of a regular mask and a dry mask, which is 4 times thinner!

On the right is a dry-type mask on the skin.

SAFETY AND RELIABILITY:

Hypoallergenic for the skin, all ingredients are also used in pharmacology.

DENSE COSMETIC ESSENCE:

Contains of human stem cells and HGH-ingredients. The water absorption is 31 times stronger than conventional wet masks.

HIGH ADHESION AND STRONG HYDRATION:

The thickness of the mask is 4 times thinner than the usual wet one.

A very thin layer tightly and reliably adheres to the skin, penetrates into the stratum corneum.

Carefully selected cosmetic ingredients to improve hydration and skin care:

HUMAN STEM CELLS:

The large amount of cytokines contained in stem cells triggers a reproductive reaction, which becomes a signal for the cells to repair themselves and thereby restore healthy skin. Stem cells are also mentioned in the media as an ingredient that can be expected to provide strong skin rejuvenation.

These are the most effective anti-aging cosmetics to date!

HGH-INGREDIENT:

Like EGF and FGF, the advanced GF ingredient contains many "super-amino acids" (180 or more) with the same number of amino acid bonds that activate growth factors. HGH-ingredients are referred to as the "fountain of youth" or store of health, as they trigger the mechanisms of tissue repair and regeneration.

Expect beautiful, smooth, firm and transparent skin!

PLACENTA

HYALURONIC ACID

CERAMIDE

ALOE VERA

Effect of placenta: effective in preventing the appearance or lightening spots, removing active enzymes, providing anti-inflammatory, stimulating blood circulation, which in turn enhances metabolism, improving the general condition of the skin.

Effect of hyaluronic acid: it is a cosmetic ingredient with a high moisturizing ability, it is the basis of skin care, prevents and reduces the appearance of fine wrinkles, supports the barrier functions of the skin.

Effect of ceramides: prevents the appearance of spots, wrinkles and rough skin due to the moisturizing effect, enhances the barrier function, protects the skin from wilting and stress, inhibits the transport of moisture.

Effect of aloe vera: has excellent moisturizing, antiseptic and antibacterial action, softens rough skin and gives it elasticity.

Method of use:

- Apply the mask to a thoroughly washed face.

Remove one of the mesh protecting the mask.

Bio Cellulose Mask

Match the mask with your eyes, nose and mouth.

Bio Cellulose Mask

Carefully remove the mesh from the top.

* The illustration below is colored red for ease of understanding.

Leave the mask on for 30-40 minutes, then remove the mask layer. Massage your face with the essence remaining on the skin with gentle light movements. Then you can use regular skin care products.

Enlarged image of mask layers

- The mask is located between two protective layers.
- Before use, remove one of the protective layers, after fixing on the face, remove the remaining layer of protection.

PRECAUTIONS FOR USE:

- Before using, make sure that there are no abnormalities on your face (large moles, warts, cuts, burn marks).
- Discontinue use immediately if you feel any discomfort to your skin.
- In case of contact with eyes, rinse immediately with water without rubbing.
- Reuse of the mask is not allowed.
- In case of skin irritation, redness or itching after using the mask, discontinue use immediately and consult a dermatologist.
